CEO's Letter

Dear Friend,

Following NYSCAA's Annual Meeting last week, we have changes in board leadership. We will miss Laura Rossman, CEO of ProAction, as she steps down from President of the Board after serving two terms. We thank her for her vision and commitment to NYSCAA's mission. We are excited to welcome Lindy Glennon, Executive Director of Cortland Community Action as the new Board President. Lindy has been an active board member for several years and we look forward to working with her. We also welcome Maureen Abbott, Executive Director of Tioga Opportunities as the new Vice-President. It will be a pleasure to work with her in this leadership role. Deb Schimpf, CEO at Schenectady Community Action Program, remains the Secretary of the board and Denis Wilson, CEO of Fulmont Community Action, continues as Treasurer. Additionally, we are happy that Felicia

Dumas, Executive Director at St. Lawrence County Community Development Program, has joined the board as a new member.

NYSCAA's Professional Development Conference, scheduled in June each year, was initially postponed until September with the network hopeful we would be able to hold it in-person. But it soon became clear that an in-person conference would not be possible in 2020. So, we have moved the annual conference to a virtual format. It will be held over three shorter days: December 1, 3 & 8, from 9:00am-2:00pm each day. We have fantastic speakers and relevant topics and have also built in time for networking opportunities and affinity group meetings. More information about how to register is contained in this newsletter. We look forward to having you join us.

Best,

Monthly Poverty Myth

"Taxpayer Funded Government Assistance Programs are Not Working" - False!

FACT: Government Assistance Programs are saving lives, and making meaningful differences even if they are hard to see.

President Johnson devoted a $20 trillion dollar project to fight the war on poverty, and today billions of taxpayers' dollars still go to this war, and yet we see little benefit to all this hard work. In fact, rates of poverty and homeless are growing larger than ever.

This causes many Americans to come to the conclusion that our strategies are not working, that food stamps, welfare, and other intervention systems are not doing the trick. Ironically, it is this invalid conclusion that leads people to seek explanations such as the other misconceptions.

The truth, however, requires us to look more deeply into the numbers, which is a definite theme underlying the solution to many of the other misconceptions. As mentioned above, the census poverty figures are produced before taking into account government assistance apparatuses.

For instance, neither SNAP (sometimes referred to as food stamps) nor refundable tax credits are accounted for in the census poverty statistics. If they were, we would see that SNAP brought 3.9 million people above the poverty line in 2010, and that the tax credit lifted 5.4 million people above the poverty line.

Often it is the case that charity and government assistance programs are effective, however, the results are hard to see. In many cases, these assistance programs may mean the difference between someone eating four times a week and them eating once a week. Unfortunately, these small but powerful successes will not show up in the poverty census numbers.

Highlights from our Agencies

Congratulations ProAction of Steuben and Yates!

For 55 years of providing services to their communities! Their celebration week started with a special message from their CEO.

They were officially established on September 14, 1965 and known as the Steuben Economic Opportunity Program (SCEOP), with only 3 programs and 8 staff. They changed their name to Pro Action of Steuben and Yates, Inc. in 1994 and now proudly offer more than 60 programs and employ over 320 staff!

They have put together a video celebrating the past 55 years, showing how they have adapted, changed and evolved in order to continue to meet the needs of those in our communities. The video also highlights our work through the pandemic.

ProAction hosts blood drive in partnership with the American Red Cross.

September 17, 2020 - There is a desperate need for blood during this critical time. To meet that demand, ProAction partnered with the American Red Cross for their 55th Anniversary and hosted a blood drive.

The agency wanted to be sure to include a way to give back to the community during their anniversary. They took extreme sanitation precautions to ensure the safety of donors and staff. Temperatures were checked before people could participate in the drive. Gloves were used and changed between each donor. Careful sanitation practices were in effect and will continue to be at future events.

Greater Opportunities for Broome and Chenango, Inc.

Greater Opportunities, Inc. launches a new website

Upon the merger of Opportunities from Broome and Opportunities for Chenango, in July 2020, a new website was developed to showcase the services provided by the merger of the two Community Action Agencies.

The agencies are the only community action agencies across New York State that chose to strategically merge to serve multiple counties. They are very excited to start their new endeavor while creating opportunities for those it serves.

Community Action Partnership of Madison County

Community Action Partnership of Madison County distributes much-needed hygiene supplies - including diapers - to residents in need.

August 22, 2020 - On Friday, the Community Action Partnership for Madison County set up outside of Oneida High School to distribute hygiene supplies - including diapers- to residents in need. The CAP was prepared to serve over 100 families in the area

COVID-19's impact on communities has been long lasting and devastating. Travis Burns, CAP housing program manager, says since the pandemic, domestic violence, homelessness and substance abuse have considerably increased. He says the number of clients and families their agency has served over the last few months have nearly tripled, and with funding delays from New York state, it has been more difficult to meet that demand.

Antara Mitra, CAP Executive Director, emphasizes that its not all bleak and sheds light on how the community has come to together to combat these delays. "People have sent us part of their stimulus check, saying they want us to try and meet the needs of the community," Mitra said. On top of that, the CNY Diaper Bank provided the CAP with boxes upon boxes of diapers thanks to a grant from the Community Foundation. "We've very resilient," the mayor said. "We help each other out. It's important in a small community and what makes it great living here."

Oswego County Opportunities, Inc.

Oswego County COVID-19 Fund helps Oswego County Opportunities, Inc. (OCO) address pandemic needs.

September 10, 2020 - In response to the serious health risks caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Oswego County Opportunities added a number of services to aid in both reducing the risks of exposure for its consumers and staff, and offering emergency supplies to those in need. For OCO programs who operate 24-hour residential sites, simple everyday tasks become crucial issues to contend with. Additionally, there are many in their community who are in desperate need of basic need items such as food, diapers and hygiene products.

To help offset the expenses needed to seamlessly continue its programs during the COVID-19 pandemic OCO was awarded a $15,000 grant from the Oswego County COVID-19 Fund, an affiliate fund of the Central New York Community Foundation. OCO has been using the money to create bags of emergency supplies and basic needs such as shelf stable foods and hygiene products. The bags, as well as personal protection items such as hand sanitizer, gloves and masks, are available for pickup at OCO's main office in Fulton and its Hillside Commons office in Oswego.

Census 2020

2020 Census Response Rate Map

The U.S. Census Bureau's online map shows the 2020 Census Response Rate Challenge — where state, local, and community leaders work together to promote a complete and accurate count by increasing the self-response rate in their community. The map currently displays 2010 Census self-response rates as a reference point for states, counties, cities, and census tracts around the country. Users will be able to use the map to track their community's progress in responding to the 2020 Census.

As people respond to the 2020 Census online, by phone or by mail, the Census Bureau will update the map daily to reflect the percentage of households that self-respond online, by phone or by mail after being invited to do so. (The rate will be provided for the three modes combined and for online alone.)

Take the 2020 Census Now - Time is Running Out!

September 24 - The 2020 Census ends on October 5th. Time is running out, but it's not too late.

Everyone in your community can still complete the Census online, by phone, or by mail during the coronavirus pandemic!

To help reduce the coronavirus risk, the Census Bureau is providing resources and guidance for your local census efforts. Click here to learn how to promote Census engagement while managing risks related to the coronavirus.

Your response matters! The Census results help determine how billions of dollars in federal funding flow into states, and your response can shape many different aspects of your community. See how your answers can shape the future!

CAPLAW's Releases FAQ in Response to the Department of Homeland Security's New "Public Charge Rule"

After a lengthy comment process and the litigation of several preliminary injunctions attempting to block its implementation, the Department of Homeland Security's new "public charge rule" is currently in effect in all states other than Illinois, New York, Connecticut, and Vermont.

With the COVID-19 pandemic and accompanying economic downturn resulting in increased demand for services offered by Community Action Agencies (CAAs), CAPLAW has developed the following FAQ to inform CAAs and their clients about how a client's receipt of certain public benefits under the rule may impact their future immigration status. This resource addresses who is covered by the rule, how officials determine whether an individual is likely to become a public charge, and what effect a public charge determination may have on an individual's green card application.

To better understand the New Rule and its implications for CAA clients, read the FAQ here or click the image below.

New Section 4 of Tools for Top-Notch CAAs: A Practical Approach to Governance and Financial Excellence

In light of the new FASB accounting standards for nonprofit organizations, CAPLAW has issued a newly updated Section 4 of our popular guide, Tools for Top-Notch CAAs, focusing on financial statements for board members and management for nonprofit Community Action Agencies (CAAs). Also check out the sample financial statements in the Appendix to Section 4.

NASCSP has released their 2020 Weatherization Day Communications and Planning Toolkit

Each year, communities across the country mark October 30th as National Weatherization Day. In response, NASCSP has released their 2020 Weatherization Day Communications and Planning Toolkit.

The 2020 Weatherization Day Toolkit contains social media and other communications resources to help you plan your Weatherization Day activities. New features of the 2020 toolkit include updated information on messaging, new infographics, suggestions for virtual/socially distanced Weatherization Day events, and materials highlighting the importance of weatherization assistance programs (WAP) during COVID.

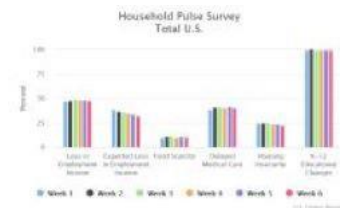

This toolkit will aid in planning Weatherization Day activities and your Public Information Campaign. Toolkit includes sample press releases, event ideas, social media examples, and press kits.

Census Bureau Household Pulse Survey

The Household Pulse Survey is designed to deploy quickly and efficiently, collecting data on a range of ways in which people's lives have been impacted by the pandemic. Data will be disseminated in near real-time to inform federal and state response and recovery planning.

Phase 1 of the Household Pulse Survey asked individuals about their experiences in terms of employment status, food security, housing, physical and mental health, access to health care, and educational disruption. For Phase 2, the survey will carry over many of these questions to allow users to understand how these domains are changing as the pandemic continues, and will include additional questions on the application and receipt of benefits, spending patterns, and availability of financial resources, post-secondary education disruptions, capacity to telework, and travel practices.

Census Data from 2019 - Out Now

September 15, 2020 - The U.S. Census Bureau has released 2019 data on Income, Poverty and Health Insurance Coverage in the United States. The 2019 income and poverty report is based on the CPS ASEC and includes comparisons with the previous year and historical tables in the report, which contain statistics back to 1959. The health insurance report is based on both the CPS ASEC and the American Community Survey (ACS).

Income - The median household income in 2019 increased 6.8% from 2018, and the official poverty rate decreased 1.3 percentage points. Median household income was $68,703 in 2019, an increase of 6.8% from the 2018 median.

Poverty - The official poverty rate in 2019 was 10.5%, a decrease of 1.3 percentage points from 11.8% in 2018. This is the fifth consecutive annual decline in the national poverty rate. Since 2014, the poverty rate has fallen 4.3 percentage points, from 14.8% to 10.5%. The 2019 poverty rate of 10.5% is the lowest rate observed since estimates were initially published for 1959. The number of people in poverty in 2019 was 34.0 million, 4.2 million fewer people than 2018.

Health insurance - The percentage of people with health insurance coverage for all or part of 2019 was 92.0%. Private health insurance coverage was more prevalent than public coverage, covering 68.0% and 34.1% of the population at some point during the year, respectively. Employment-based insurance was the most common sub-type. Some people may have more than one coverage type during the calendar year.

NYATEP New Report Release - A New Way Forward: Bold Actions to Reshape New York's Labor Market

Over the last few months, these Action Steps were developed in partnership with leading statewide experts, coalitions and business leaders as part of the NYS Workforce Strategy Group. This group was convened by Invest in Skills NY, a statewide advocacy partnership that is committed to the economic imperative of New York's workforce system. The report is focused on pragmatic Actions Steps that use existing federal and state resources and policy shifts to:

- Stabilize the economy and get New Yorkers back to work
- Increase the pipeline of workers ready for work when the economy rebounds
- Rebuild, rethink & reform New York's education, postsecondary and employment pathways and economic development approach

As New York recovers, we will need to take 'bold action' to address the unique crisis we are facing, but also make real changes to ensure this recovery is equitable and ends with more New Yorkers in better jobs.

Moratorium On COVID-Related Commercial Evictions Extended through 10/20

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo announced an Executive Order extending the state's moratorium on COVID-related commercial evictions and foreclosures an additional month, until October 20th.

This measure extends protections already in place for commercial tenants and mortgagors in recognition of the financial toll the pandemic has taken on business owners, including retail establishments and restaurants. The extension of this protection gives commercial tenants and mortgagors additional time to get back on their feet and catch up on rent or their mortgage, or to renegotiate their lease terms to avoid foreclosure moving forward.

NY State of Health - Special Enrollment Period Extended through 12/31

During these challenging times, NY State of Health, New York's official health plan Marketplace, remains committed to ensuring access to affordable, quality health insurance for all New Yorker's, so they can get the care they need.

NY State of Health is here to help New Yorker's who may have lost their health insurance coverage as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic to find and enroll in affordable, comprehensive coverage. Many New Yorker's will qualify for Medicaid, Child Health Plus or the Essential Plan due to loss of income/employment or reduced wages. Those qualifying for these programs can enroll year-round. Individuals who lose job-based health insurance should apply within 60 days of losing that coverage.

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo announced that the Special Enrollment Period for uninsured New Yorkers will be extended through December 31, 2020. Find out more about this Special Enrollment Period for Qualified Health Plans and updates on insurance options during the Coronavirus pandemic here.

NYS Office for the Aging Launches CV19 CheckUp Tool

The New York State Office for the Aging \(NYSOFA\), in partnership with BellAge, Inc., and the Association on Aging in New York \(AgingNY\) has announced the launch of CV19 CheckUp in New York State, a free, anonymous, personalized online tool that evaluates an individual's risks associated with COVID-19 based on their life situation and individual behavior and provides recommendations and resources to reduce those risks.

CV19 CheckUp employs artificial intelligence to analyze data each person provides by completing an online questionnaire. It is designed for those who are considered high risk, including older adults, low income individuals, ethnic and racial minorities, and LGBTQ communities. The tool's algorithms are driven by science and medicine, using data from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention \(CDC\) and the World Health Organization \(WHO\). CV19 CheckUp is free to users. It is anonymous and does not require a name, email address, or identifier of any type.

Office for the Prevention of Hate Crimes Launches HeARTwork Against Hate contest for NYC Youth

The HeARTwork Against Hate is a creative initiative for New York City youth launched by the Office for the Prevention of Hate Crimes in September 2020.

It is important to support young New Yorkers at a time of great stress resulting from the combination of a global pandemic, economic uncertainty, school changes, scapegoating, and issues of systemic racism that have come to the fore. Inspired by OCA-NY Asian Pacific American Advocates' annual Hate Crime Prevention Art Project, HeARTwork Against Hate provides another opportunity and platform for young New Yorkers to use artistic expression as an outlet.

All New Yorkers have a role in showing respect and standing up for others. Through HeARTwork Against Hate, the City's youth can take a stand against all forms of bias, discrimination, and hate and use their creativity to communicate the positive values that make NYC great.
